

Executive Coach and Leadership Development Consultant for Physician Executives & other Health Care Leaders

Successful leaders are healthy leaders.

Successful, healthy organizations are led by executives who are flexible to change and open to growth. Leading by example, they inspire others to step up to help solve the challenges facing the healthcare industry. Dr. Jane Thilo helps leaders clarify their own personal values and align their conscious and unconscious intentions to achieve the personal and professional results that are most important to them and to the organization.

Executive Coaching Can:

- Rescue the career of a floundering executive
- Save lost opportunity and human resources costs for your business
- Protect political capital for executive leadership
- Develop and retain valuable talent
- Accelerate the success of leaders assuming new roles
- Improve communication and collaboration for more effective team results
- Boost morale, motivation and career satisfaction

Jane is uniquely qualified to work with your organization.

Jane is uniquely qualified to work with your organization. Dr. Thilo is a Board certified anesthesiologist with 30+ years of clinical and healthcare business experience. She helps organizational leaders deepen their emotional intelligence, enhance their effectiveness and innovate creative solutions in our rapidly changing healthcare environment.

Being a leader isn't easy and executive talent is your most valuable asset. Jane helps executives transform their approaches to time management, work values, and the business skills they need to succeed at each new level of leadership.

Are your executives getting the development support they need to reach their highest potential?

Jane L. Thilo, MD MS

jane.thilo@leadersgofirst.com

206-718-8734

“Superb emotional intelligence, results driven, and proven track record.”

Physician Executive,
CEO of a large
metropolitan hospital

“Clear, comprehensive, on target... Jane is an invaluable asset to our executive team.”

Physician Executive,
former President and CEO of a large healthcare system